Building on a Tradition of Success

Since 1991, INFONEX has served thousands of executives and professionals from across the globe every year. We continue to grow and expand, constantly on the lookout for new markets and new ways of turning knowledge into profit for our clients. We offer hands-on, practical information in a structured format that focuses on our customers' needs. Our courses are a well-balanced mixture of speeches, panel discussions, workgroups and in-depth practical workshops. Delegates are highly involved and are encouraged to participate and raise the issues that matter most to them and their organizations.

Benefits of sponsoring an INFONEX event:

Targeted marketing: INFONEX conferences are a great way to reach highly qualified prospects with buying authority. All events are professionally marketed and sold to a well-defined market, ensuring the best possible audience for your products or services.

A captive audience: Our conferences are intense, content-driven and informative. Delegates have invested their time and money to attend and expect knowledge they can profit from. Delegates are drawn to the subject matter because they seeking information and solutions.

Relaxed meeting environment: We do our utmost to provide delegates with a comfortable learning environment. In contrast to the impersonal atmosphere of trade shows where anonymous delegates wander the exhibit floors, our intimate question-and-answer periods, panel discussion, networking breaks and lunches allow for maximum interaction with senior decision-makers.

Industry leading presenters: Our conference developers research extensively prospective topics in order to determine the industry leaders and to ensure the highest-calibre events. Our speakers are influential and generally recognized throughout their industries.
