

CONTINUING STUDIES@UVIC

Risk professionals know it's crucial to plan for business continuity and build resilience so organizations can continue their work in the event of disruptions. Facing the multiple crises we do in today's new normal, continuity planning is much more effective when staff throughout an organization have the skills to contribute.

Who are UVic's business continuity programs for?

Staff and managers in all industries choose UVic's business continuity programs. Those in the early stages of their careers gain skills for advancement. Middle managers and those with emergency-preparedness responsibilities complement their experience with new tools, standards and frameworks. Executives gain a comprehensive overview of business continuity planning to guide their leadership. Knowledge and skills in continuity planning at all levels of an organization help build resilience and support the principles and practices that risk professionals advocate.
